

The Conduct
cont'd

| |
|--|
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |

What happens next?

When the Judicial Conduct Commissioner receives your complaint, he will conduct a preliminary examination and then decide what to do.

The Commissioner may:

- Refer your complaint to the Office for Public Integrity if he thinks there might be corruption.
- Refer your complaint to the judicial officer's jurisdictional head and recommend that the jurisdictional head take specified action in relation to the complaint.
- Recommend that the Attorney-General appoint a judicial conduct panel to inquire into and report on matters arising from your complaint.
- Make a report directly to Parliament about the judicial officer who is the subject of your complaint.
- Take no further action in respect of your complaint. The Commissioner will only take no further action if he is satisfied that further consideration of the complaint would, in all the circumstances, be unjustified.
- Dismiss your complaint. The Commissioner is obliged to dismiss your complaint if it falls within one of the grounds specified in section 17 of the JCC Act.

If you have provided your contact details in this form, you will be notified of the outcome of your complaint.

Please contact us if you have any questions or comments regarding the complaints process.

Complaint Form

Before you begin

If you wish to make a complaint about the conduct of a judicial officer, you should do so using this form or online at www.jcc.sa.gov.au

Please note: The Commissioner cannot take action in relation to complaints about judicial decisions, such as instructions, directions, orders, judgments or other decisions given or made by judicial officers in relation to any legal proceedings. You should seek legal advice if you wish to challenge such decisions.

A checklist for making a complaint is available on our website to assist you.

It is an offence to provide information in this complaint that is false or misleading in a material particular.

The information you provide will be used by the Judicial Conduct Commissioner and persons assisting the Commissioner in the administration or enforcement of the Judicial Conduct Commissioner Act 2015 (JCC Act).

Your complaint may also be disclosed to an agency or authority where necessary and appropriate. Notice of your complaint will be given to the judicial officer about whom you have made a complaint, and that judicial officer's jurisdictional head.

If you require more space to provide information, please attach additional sheets to this document. If you have documents to support your complaint, please attach them to this document.

📞 General Enquiries
(08) 8207 8311

🌐 www.jcc.sa.gov.au

🏠 c/o The Office For Public Integrity
✉ Level 1, 55 Currie St.
GPO Box 11066
Adelaide SA 5000

